KEYNOTE PRESENTATIONS

Priorities, Purpose, and the Power of Information Sharing

- Diane Brown, VP, IT Risk Management, CISO, Ulta Beauty
- Ngozi Eze, Global CISO, Levi Strauss & Co.
- Paul Suarez, VP & CISO, Casey's General Stores
- Moderated by Suzie Squier, President, RH-ISAC

The 2023 Summit opened with a keynote featuring three RH-ISAC CISOs, moderated by RH-ISAC president, Suzie Squier. The panel focused on sharing cyber threat intelligence and cultivating a culture of sharing to further strengthen retail and hospitality. Panelists even expanded upon how they help other organizations uplift their InfoSec program regardless of FTE headcount.

Enabling a Resilient Security Posture with Strategic Security Testing

Mark Varner, CISO at Lowe's, joined Wade Lance, field CISO at Synack, to discuss security testing and cyber resilience across the supply chain. They shared how strategic testing programs track improvements in overall security posture and can demonstrate resilience to regulators, senior leadership, and the board.

Navigating Through a Storm – United Airline's Security Journey During a Global Crisis

The first day of the Summit concluded with Deneen DeFiore, VP & CISO at United Airlines, sharing United's three-year long transformation journey from cybersecurity to cyber resiliency, to the goal of cyber safety.

KEYNOTE PRESENTATIONS

Panel Discussion on Digital Fraud, Emerging Tech, & AI – What Now? What's Next?

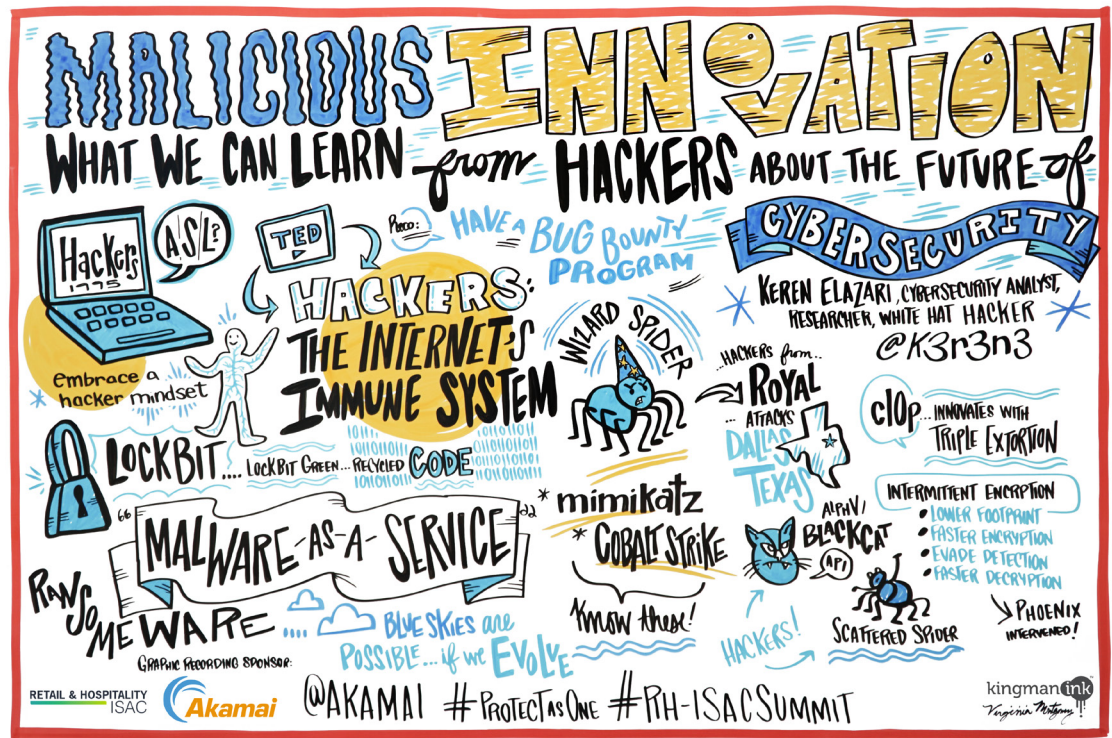

- Eli Edelkind, Senior Director, Cybersecurity, Technology, CAVA
- Jason O'Dell, VP, Security Operations, Walmart
- Alexander Schuchman, CISO, Colgate-Palmolive
- Marnie Wilking, CISO, Booking Holdings
- Moderated by Brad Wardman, Head, Threat Intelligence, Booz Allen Hamilton

Day two of the Summit began with a panel discussion about how digital fraud, emerging technology, and generative artificial intelligence impact an already crowded cyber threat landscape. The four cybersecurity leaders touched upon the ever-evolving adversaries retail and hospitality organizations encounter on a regular basis.

Malicious Innovation – What We can Learn from Hackers about the Future of Cybersecurity

The Summit wrapped with a keynote featuring Keren Elazari, security analyst, author, researcher, "The Friendly Hacker," exploring the current renaissance of malicious business models and operations, how generative AI and automation helps threat actors, and why we should learn from threat actors to better prepare for the future of cybersecurity.
